

Kathy McDaniel

Background

Kathy McDaniel grew up on a large family farming operation that required her to learn and master problem solving skills, work ethic, and reliability. As her father's assistant farm manager she was required to help shoulder the workload, manage work crews, equipment maintenance, and farming certifications. She currently helps her husband and two daughters work a beautiful cattle ranch nestled along the Snake River.

Service

Kathy has spent decades managing projects and employees in several different capacities throughout her life. Her service in the community and church has brought a variety of different projects to fruition. Throughout the community she has spent time tutoring in a public elementary school, fixing hair for elderly ladies in a nursing home, giving free piano lessons to families in need, organizing and teaching neighborhood sewing classes for youth and young children, and is the treasurer of her children's high school band booster club. Her church service is equally as important to her as she has taught a children's choir, organizing and implementing a youth summer girl's camp for several years, and currently serves as a counselor in the women's organization.

Current

She has been employed at the Lillian Vallely School for eleven years, seven of those years serving as the Business Manager. She has dedicated her time and talents to improving and maintaining the physical facilities of the school as well as the emotional stability of the students. She works diligently to make sure that the school is run efficiently and effectively so it becomes a restful learning and working environment for everyone that helps with this amazing school. Every day is dedicated to providing the tools necessary for the students, staff, and board members to succeed.
