Dustin W. Manwaring, born and raised in Blackfoot, has lived and practiced law in Pocatello as a business and intellectual property attorney since 2011. Manwaring has strong Idaho roots, returning eight years ago after attending undergraduate at University of Utah and law school at Drake University in Iowa. During law school, Manwaring worked for Mitt Romney's 2008 and 2012 campaigns and served as a law clerk for the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Iowa. Prior to that Manwaring worked for Utah-based SkyWest Airlines, managing hundreds of agents and over 150 flights a day at the Salt Lake City International Airport. His education, work and management experience have given him the opportunity to live in and travel to several different states and visit more than 16 foreign countries in the past 15 years.

Manwaring's law practice has grown into a very busy boutique firm serving many clients in both California and Idaho where he is licensed to practice. Manwaring has appeared and successfully argued cases before the Idaho Supreme Court and the Ninth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel.

In 2016, Manwaring was elected as State Representative in the 29th legislative district, representing the City of Pocatello and surrounding area in the Idaho House of Representatives. Manwaring serves on the Business, State Affairs, and Local Government committees, and was recently appointed by the Speaker of the House to serve on the State Employee Insurance/Benefits Interim Committee for 2017.
